

CANNON OFFSHORE FUNDS

Deposit Plus Fund December 2013

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Fund seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing in deposits, short dated government bonds, short dated corporate bonds and selected funds with low portfolio duration where appropriate. Bonds will generally be of 5 year maturity or less and the average portfolio maturity will generally be 3 years or less. Substantial exposure to gilts and deposits may also be held from time to time.

INVESTMENT COMMENT

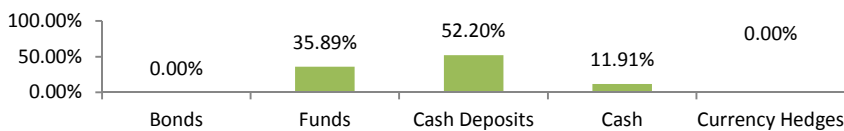

Government and corporate bonds had another difficult month with investment grade posting negative returns. Generally the theme in fixed interest was the higher a bond's investment grade the poorer its performance. Similarly, the longer the bond's life, the worse its performance. Developed market equities advanced during the month but Emerging Markets declined. The USD and Euro increased in value on trade weighted basis. Resolution of the US government budget (until 2014) and improving economic statistics provoked this rally of riskier assets. The US Federal reserve reduced quantitative easing by $10bn during the month and UK GDP forecasts were revised upward. UK inflation forecasts remain flat but those in the US and Europe fell again. The fund returned 0.15% for the month and 1.90% for the year to date.
